SPARKLE EXECUTIVE COACHING

Individual Coaching

Coaching is about helping you move forward by unlocking your potential.

It is about what you want or need, a challenge or an opportunity.

The coach will use techniques that will be fit for your unique situation to help you reach the goal you will set for each coaching session.

Team & Group Coaching

Group coaching is a very specific area of coaching.

Organisations do understand that the usual trainings are not enough anymore. Team Coaching not only develops teams but also, and more importantly turn them into long-term performing teams.

How?

In team coaching, the role of the coach is to create a safe space when the team members will taking the time to learn, experiment and build their own culture, values, purpose and goal.
